

Cathay Pacific

Cathay Pacific's four daily non-stop flights to Hong Kong from London Heathrow make it one of the leading airlines to Asia and beyond. From Hong Kong, its home and hub, Cathay Pacific provides excellent onward connections to over 120 destinations worldwide including 40 in Asia, 18 in China and 7 in Australia and New Zealand.

Cathay Pacific strongly believe that your journey is just as important as your destination, so, before starting your journey, you can look forward to an extensive choice of in-flight entertainment on the award winning 'Studio CX' audio visual on-demand system; fantastic menus with both Asian and Western choices and a dedicated service that is personal, discreet and second to none. Cathay Pacific's fleet is comprised of over 120 wide bodied aircraft and is one of the youngest and most modern in the sky.

Cathay Pacific is one of only 7 airlines in the world to carry a 5 star rating from Skytrax and has won numerous awards including 'Airline of the Year' in 2003, 2005 and 2009.

Cathay Pacific is constantly looking to improve and renew its product and services. Most recently the airline opened its new Business and First Class lounges at London Heathrow airport. The new lounges are modelled on the Wing and the Pier lounges at Hong Kong airport. The new 923 square-metre room boasts a panoramic view over the airport's apron area whilst one of the main features is Cathay Pacific's signature noodle bar with a selection of delicious noodles to choose from and a buffet is also available offering a choice of both western and Asian food options. The lounges offer more personal space and a wide range of services including desktop computers with internet access and Wi-Fi connections, a full range of local and international newspapers, and 5 fully equipped shower suites in each lounge.

Flying beyond Hong Kong with Cathay Pacific offers the perfect opportunity to combine your ultimate destination with a stopover in one of the world's most dynamic and exciting cities.

Flight Centre Says

Why we recommend Cathay Pacific

The exemplary quality of onboard experience – the Asian culture of impeccable service with a smile, has given Cathay Pacific the reputation as one of the leading airlines of the world.

One of only 7 airlines to hold the prestigious Skytrax Five-Star Airline ranking, Cathay Pacific is an ideal choice for exploring China, South-East Asia and beyond.

A fantastic destination in its own right, Hong Kong is also a great stopover choice to break up the long flight to Australia or New Zealand. Speak to your Airfare Expert today to create your perfect stopover experience.

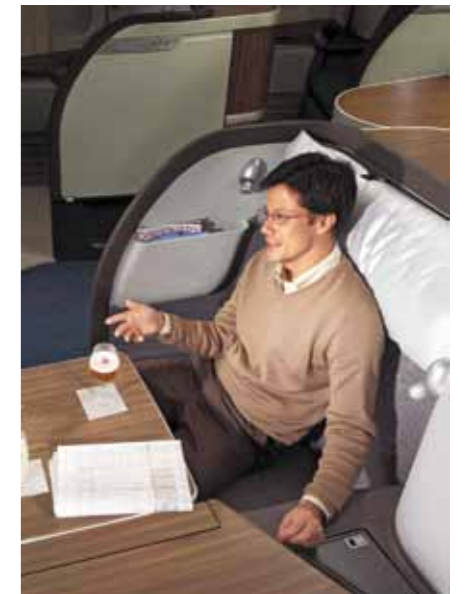

First Class

Think of Cathay Pacific's First Class as a suite, rather than a seat. With more space than ever before, there's even room to invite a guest.

Awake, you'll enjoy a comfortable seat, exceptional food, incredible entertainment, and mood lighting to enhance your flying experience. Asleep, you'll dream in one of the biggest beds in the sky. Attentive cabin staff are always at your call.

First Class features a wonderfully big bed – 81 inches long – that will remind you of sleeping at home. And when you awake, a press of a button will transform it into one of the most comfortable seats in the sky, with massage function, extendable side seat, drop down armrest, and all the adjustments you could want for a pleasant journey.

- Luxurious suites promise all First Class passengers heightened levels of comfort, privacy, ambience and convenience
- One of the biggest beds in the sky; the seat effortlessly converts into a 6 foot 9 inch by 3 foot fully flat bed
- Individual 17 inch TV screen with audio/video on-demand and noise cancelling headsets
- Touch-controlled multi-adjustable seat with built-in massage function
- Personal wardrobe with amenity kit, sleeper suit, shoe bag, mattress, pillow and duvet

Business Class

Cathay Pacific's Business Class makes flying a pleasure. Relax in a comfortable seat with massage function and easy access to the aisle.

Enjoy more entertainment choices than ever before. Access all your in-flight essentials with convenient stowage. There's mood lighting to enhance your flying experience and when it's time to sleep, simply press a button to turn your seat into a perfectly flat bed for a wonderful night's rest.

After all, it's when you lie down that you want all the room you can get, to stretch out, turn over, maybe even curl up a bit, like you do at home. Which means you'll want a perfectly flat bed with lots of legroom. And that's exactly what you get in Business Class – all at the touch of a button.

- Staggered partitions and direct access to the aisle from every seat
- Luxury seat that transform into a fully flat 6 foot 6 inch bed
- Personal 15 inch TV screen with audio/video on-demand and noise cancelling headsets
- Additional storage, which includes space for carry-on items under the ottoman
- Pillows, duvet and amenity kit for extra comfort
- Seat width 23.5 inch/shoulder width 32 inch and bed length 78–81 inch

Economy Class

The first thing you'll notice in Cathay Pacific's Economy Class is that your space really is your space. Then there's the total control you have of your entertainment with the audio and video on-demand system.

The fixed-back design means that all seat movement is within a shell that doesn't move whether you're sitting upright or sleeping, so your personal space is not reduced when the passenger in front reclines their seat.

And with a LEAP® Live Back™ upholstered seat, it's a very comfortable space, with smooth reclining and an adjustable headrest.

- No more intrusions when the passenger in front reclines thanks to the fixed back seats
- LEAP Live Back™ seat features office chair technology active postural support
- Personal 9 inch TV screen with audio/video on-demand
- Seat width 17.5 inch and seat pitch 32 inch
